SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. There is a special detachment of CHIANG Ching-kuo's Political Department on Yenping Road, Taipei, in a building which appears to be a shop but displays no sign or business notice. Its functions include the investigation of suspected Communist activities. Several members are investigating the Communists who surrendered to the Nationalist Government in the fall 1950 amnesty; others are engaged in work unknown even to their colleagues. Members of the detachment frequently visit Hong Kong and Macao for one-month periods.
2. CHEN Hsin-sa (also known as CHEN Kwan-shih), whose attempted assassination occurred in Hong Kong on 30 January,* was formerly connected with Nationalist intelligence activities in Kwangtung. CHEN had been removed from his post because his work was too well known to the Communists. Nationalist officials believe the attempt on CHEN's life was made because of his former position.

25X1A

[REDACTED] The South China Morning Post of 31 January reported that CHEN had been shot but was in fair condition.
